

Industry - Maintenance & Repair Operations

Copper State is proud to support maintenance repair and operations (MRO) throughout our customer base. We know that if your equipment isn't running, then your business isn't running. We are devoted to supporting the MRO products our customers need with local inventory and simple ordering processes, both during business hours and with after-hours emergency commitment.

We carry a broad product offering of fasteners, industrial supplies, safety items, and even customer specific items and specialty inventory. If we don't already have what you need for your MRO solutions, we will leverage our strong supplier partnerships to get the product you need. We continue to grow our product line specifically as driven by the needs of our customers.

No matter how big or small your facility is, our valued MRO products supply can simplify your procurement, optimizing your operation's efficiency and reducing downtime. We offer will-call pickup at any of our locations, local delivery, efficient online ordering, and VMI capabilities as integrated support within your operation.

Our MRO solutions are intended to help eliminate "maverick spending" and to keep your operations running smoothly. We assist customers with usage reports, cost analysis, product and application comparison, and other resources to help manage the overall spend on MRO supplies.

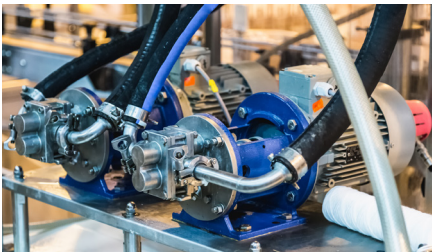

We work with you to keep your operations running smoothly!
